■ Brief Introduction:

Since 2013, a group of FJU English department students and a group of American students from St. Vincent College (SVC students) start working together to organize an English summer camp at Guo-Tai Elementary school. Together they proved to the Guo-Tai students that learning English can be enjoyable and memorable. Moreover, this group of FJU and SVC students shared wonderful memories through co-teaching English at Guo-Tai. In the words of SVC students, Taiwan is even better because of FJU students!

We are pleased to announce that this summer, on July 1 and 2, we will be able to work with SVC students again to host the 2015 Guo-Tai summer camp on English language teaching and cross-cultural communication. If you are interested, you are encouraged to seize this rare opportunity and join us now!
