Graduation Benchmark Regulations

Two graduation qualifications are required:

- 1. English Proficiency Test: CEFR (Common European Framework Reference) B2 or the equivalent levels of other language proficiency tests (for details, see article III under Graduation Benchmark Enforcement Rules).
- 2. Learning Outcome Demonstration, in one of the following ways (for details, see article IV under Graduation Benchmark Enforcement Rules):
 - i. Junior Research Paper and Convention (with written score of 83 or above);
 - ii. Senior Play Production or Department Magazine Production;
- iii. Final project or public presentation in a designated project-based course (Graduation Project Production, Academic Writing, English for Academic Purposes, Translation, Journalistic Writing, Business Presentation and Multimedia English Teaching Materials; the department may designate additional courses as well).

Graduation Benchmark Enforcement Rules

- I. To develop a sense of purpose and direction, students should submit a four-year plan in the freshman year, and revise it every year during the preregistration period of the second semester.
- II. In the second semester of their junior year students should submit the "Graduation Benchmark Checklist" and "Learning Outcome Demonstration Plan" in order for the department to check their progress in meeting the benchmarks, and to arrange the learning outcome exhibition and convention.
- III. English Proficiency Test:
 - 1. The English department's professional language level is:
 - CEFR (Common Language Framework Reference) B2 Vantage level, or
 - GEPT High-Intermediate Second Test:
 - TOFEL-iBT 87 (Listening 21, Reading 22, Speaking 23, Writing 21);
 - TOEIC 800 (Listening 400, Reading 385);
 - IELTS 6.5;
 - TOEIC Speaking and Writing Tests 310 (Speaking 160, Writing 150);
 - Cambridge Certificate FCE Grade B,
 - and BULATS ALTE 3.
 - 2. Those students who pass the CEFR B2 language level (or its equivalent, as indicated above) have the option to take a second foreign language in fulfillment of the 8-credit foreign language requirement. Those who do not pass the CEFR B2 language level (or its equivalent) should abide by the following rules:
 - i. Take department-designated English courses (Foreign Language-English) for the 8-credit foreign language requirement.
 - ii. Take another proficiency test before the end of the junior year.
 - iii. For those who still do not pass the level, take a department-designated makeup course in the first semester of the senior year. This makeup course will not be counted toward students' graduation credits.

IV. Learning Outcome Demonstration:

- 1. If the learning outcome project does not include a substantial verbal component (written or oral), a five-page written report is required. The report may be written individually or collaboratively, and it should explain how the project integrates what students have learned in their college years and/or is related to their post-graduation plans. The teacher/advisor overseeing the project will determine if a written report is necessary.
- 2. Learning outcome project procedures:
 - i. Students submit their Learning Outcome Demonstration Plan in the pre-registration period of the second semester of their junior year. The plan is to be finalized by the beginning of the senior year, after which no changes are allowed.
 - ii. For students who have not presented their project in other forums, the department organizes a learning outcome demonstration project exhibition and convention sometime in the first semester of students' senior year.

2. A student who does not achieve a passing grade in the second semester of English Composition (I, II, or III) or English Conversation (I, II, or III) must repeat both semesters of both courses until a passing grade is achieved. Students may opt out of repeating the first semester of Composition and Conversation only if the first-semester grade for both courses is 78 or above. Credits for the same course will be recognized only once.

Each level of Composition requires students to pass a benchmark, that is, a minimum standard for a designated composition or test, as established by the teachers of that level. Students who do not pass the benchmark will not pass Composition, regardless of their overall average in the course, and will need to retake Composition and Conversation according to the rules stated above. Details regarding benchmarks are included in the syllabi for each Composition and Conversation level.

- 3. 60 is the lowest passing grade. The university allows students who score from 50 59 in the first semester of a year course to continue to take the course in the second semester, and then repeat the first semester in the next school year (CC courses excepted). Students who score under 50 may continue the course in the second semester with the permission of the professor (CC courses excepted).
- 4. Courses with the same title can only be recognized once. (PE courses excepted.)
- 5. Freshman, sophomore, and junior students need to take at least 12 credits each semester; senior students need to take at least 9 credits each semester.
